

Oldtimers Day set

London Majors are inviting the public to help honour a special anniversary this Sunday at Labatt Park

In honour of the 60th anniversary year of London's 1948 victory over the Fort Wayne General Electrics for the National Baseball Congress North American championship, the Majors' Intercounty Baseball League doubleheader against Toronto will also be Oldtimers Day at the ballpark. The first game is set to begin at 1 p.m.

Joining in the celebration are the three surviving members of that team, Jack Fairs, Joe Bechard and Gil Robertson. Also among those attending the festivities will be Stan (Gabby) Anderson, who was a non-roster player on the team and a new member of the London Sports Hall of Fame, along with 2007 hall of fame inductee and long-time Majors' player and owner Arden Eddie.

All former Majors and Intercounty league players, coaches, trainers and supporters are invited to attend.
